

Here are the directions on how to add an EVERNOTE CLIPPER to your iPad.

On your iPad go to www.evernote.com.

Then click the button to the left of the web search that looks like a box with an arrow pointing out of it.

Click Bookmark.

Make sure the bottom bar says "Bookmarks Bar."

Click Save.

You should now have Evernote along the top of your Safari as a bookmark.

Go to the top left and click on the open book icon.

It might say "History" at the top. You want it to say "Bookmarks Bar."

To make it say "Bookmarks Bar" at the top, click on the open book at the bottom of that pull down window.

It should now say "Bookmarks Bar" at the top. Click on that.

Click Edit at the top right.

Choose the last thing you bookmarked at the bottom of this list. It should be Evernote!

Rename this Bookmark to "Evernote Clipper."

You should see <http://evernote.com/> in the second window below where you typed "Evernote Clipper." Delete that. Instead, you will copy and paste what is below this:

javascript:(function(){EN_CLIP_HOST='http://www.evernote.com';try{var%20x=document.createElement('SCRIPT');x.type='text/javascript';x.src=EN_CLIP_HOST+'/public/bookmarkClipper.js?'+(new%20Date().getTime()/100000);document.getElementsByTagName('head')[0].appendChild(x);}catch(e){location.href=EN_CLIP_HOST+'/clip.action?url='+encodeURIComponent(location.href)+'&title='+encodeURIComponent(document.title);}}());

Now, practice.

Go to any website you'd like to clip and send to your Evernote account. When you are at the website you'd like to send to your account, click that new bookmark you made. IT WILL NOT KICK YOU OFF YOUR CURRENT WEBSITE. It will open up a small window in the corner. You will Log In to your Evernote account and decide what Notebook you'd like to send it to. It will take a minute to sync (you might even need to click on the sync button in your Evernote account).
